The Great Michigan Read* exhibit, events in Three Rivers through Dec. 10

Public invited to special MHC presentation at book discussion on December 5

(LANSING)---The Michigan Humanities Council (MHC) announces the exhibit, Up North with the Hemingways, is now on display at the Three Rivers Public Library (920 W. Michigan Ave.) through December 10. The exhibit will visit 29 sites in the state of Michigan through July 7, 2008 (see below or log onto the website, www.greatmichiganread.org). The exhibit is part of The Great Michigan Read, launched in July by the Michigan Humanities Council to help address the decline in reading literature.

The touring exhibit includes references to original artifacts about Ernest Hemingway's life and his writings that pertain to his time in Northern Michigan. There are four themes as a focus of each exhibit: Northern Michigan in the early 1900s, the Hemingway family, Ernest Hemingway, and The Nick Adams Stories. The Great Michigan Read touring exhibits were funded in part by the MHC and the Michigan Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs, and were created by the Clarke Historical Library at Central Michigan University and the Michigan Hemingway Society.

In addition to the exhibit, three events will be held at the Three Rivers Public Library next week. On Wednesday, December 5, at 7:00 p.m., there will be a book discussion of The Nick Adams Stories. At the event, the Michigan Humanities Council will present a limited copy of The Great Michigan Read poster to the Three Rivers Public Library autographed by the artists who designed them, Charlie Sharp of Lansing and Kathryn Darnell of East Lansing. The presentation will recognize the library for its outstanding programming in support of The Great Michigan Read. Other Great Michigan Read events at the library include: Sunday, December 2, at 1:00 p.m. will be a screening of The Adventures of a Young Man, a film adaptation of The Nick Adams Stories; and, Monday, December 3, at 7:00 p.m., will be a screening of Ernest Hemingway: Rivers to the Sea, part of the PBS American Masters series. The Three Rivers Public Library is open Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information about the exhibit and programs at the Three Rivers Public Library, please call 269-273-8666.

"The Michigan Humanities Council is pleased to reach a wider audience with The Great Michigan Read programs by making available a touring exhibit about The Nick Adams Stories and Ernest Hemingway," said Janice Fedewa, executive director of the Michigan Humanities Council.

"One of our patrons planned to attend the book discussion because he never understood why Hemingway was considered a great writer," said Shirley Cody, director of the Three Rivers Public Library. "The exhibit and activities we have planned will help explain why."

About The Great Michigan Read

The MHC is the first organization to implement a program for an entire state to read one of Hemingway's works. To date, more than 100 communities across the state are participating in The Great Michigan Read. Reader's guides, bookmarks, posters, and other opportunities are available to participating cultural organizations. Additional activities include radio and television features, podcasts, speakers bureau, driving tours, a website resource (www.greatmichiganread.org), and grant programs to help engage communities in literature.
